FRIDAYS
Paul Robeson Cultural Center Room 016
11:30 AM - 12:45 PM
Free Your Mind Friday
is a group conversation/discussion in which students, staff, and faculty will challenge themselves to discuss issues through the lens of social justice, radical inclusion, different academic and social theories of or related to marginalized groups such as transgender theory, womanist theory, queer theory, and comprehensive racism theory.
We will address current events such as issues of global and national violence, race and politics, the 2016 presidential election, and any other topic the group chooses to discuss.

THE PAUL ROBESON CULTURAL CENTER WELCOMES
Jsa Noyola
Freeman Auditorium
Tuesday, Sept. 27, 2016 at 7:00 p.m.
Jsa Noyola is a writer and performer. She has performed in Philadelphia, New York, and the Midwest as part of theater troupes and solo. She is a member of Queer Nation, the Student Latino Alliance, and the Socialist Student Alliance. Her performances have been featured in the Philadelphia Fringe Festival, the Philadelphia FringeArts Festival, and the Annual American Indian Cultural Festival. She is the author of the novel "The Poet's Salvation." Jsa will be performing a solo show as part of the "Voices of the Dream: The Black American Experience" event. She is a frequent contributor to the "Opinion" section of the Daily Pennsylvanian, the student newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania.
