History:
The Center for Arts and Crafts (CFAC) began in the 1970s and was located on the third floor of the HUB. Basket weaving, quilting, stained glass, candle making, and wheel-thrown pottery were offered. Approximately 40 years later, the Center for Arts and Crafts is now located in the basement level of the Ritenour Building and the Ceramics Studio is located in the lower level of the HUB-Robeson Center.

At the Center for Arts and Crafts, learn new artistic skills or improve current skill levels; design, create and appreciate arts, crafts and performance arts; and develop creative thinking, creative expression, and problem solving. The CFAC provides plenty of creative opportunities and offers relaxation and enjoyment through classes, workshops, community outreach events and exhibits.

Program Director
Stephanie Gush is a Penn State graduate with a bachelor of arts degree in Art, with an emphasis in printmaking. She has been involved with the CFAC for nineteen years, beginning as an instructor for art camps and after school art classes. She enjoys working with Penn State students to develop and promote art programs for all ages. Stephanie freelances in graphic design and illustration, paints, enjoys hiking, and volunteers in the administration of community art events. She has experience teaching printmaking, bookmaking, drawing/painting to children and adults.

Assistant and Instructor
Mandi Gatto is a Penn State graduate with a bachelor of arts degree in Integrative Arts, with a focus in drawing and painting. She joined the CFAC in 2006. She teaches scrapbook workshops to adults through the CFAC, and is also the Administrative Support Assistant, creating ads, maintaining email lists, and helping PSU students, staff and faculty sign up for art classes! Mandi has past experience teaching drawing/painting, pottery, and woodworking at summer camps. She enjoys doing anything crafty, including scrapbooking, drawing, and card making in her free time.

Instructors
Alexis Baxter is currently pursuing her doctoral degree in Chemistry at Penn State. A native of Maine, Alexis graduated in the spring of 2012 from The Florida State University, with a dual degree in Biochemistry and Environmental Chemistry. She has a passion to teach others and thanks to her five younger sisters, has learned the virtue of patience. She has lived in Oslo, Norway and has traveled extensively throughout Europe. In her free time, she likes to do anything crafty, read, be outside and spend time with her family.

Kelly Beck is a local to the State College area and is a major Community, Environment and Development B.S program at Penn State. Kelly has been working with ceramics for over two years and enjoys learning new ways to work with clay. She participates in 4-H Club, where she has held officer positions and taught baking and rabbitry.

Caitlin Dillon is from Pittsburgh, PA and is currently a junior at Penn State studying Fine Arts and Advertising. She loves to paint, travel, and hike with her three sisters! She also enjoys spending time outside with her dog, Penny. Caitlin believes that her love for art started when she spent the summer at camp as a kid, and she carries that love of art with her as she instructs art camps this summer for the CFAC.

Hannah Foster is a Master of Fine Arts candidate in Painting and Drawing at Penn State. She employs techniques of painting using sculptural materials and found objects. Much of her inspiration comes from children and non-trained artists, and she is hopeful to learn just as much from her students as they will from her. Aside from creating art, she spends her days on long hikes, experimenting with new recipes in the kitchen, and watching sci-fi and horror films with her kitty, Scoop.

Hannah Gomez is a senior at Penn State and has been a local to State College area for twelve years. She is majoring in Landscape Architecture, and loves drawing, creating things, and being in nature. She is very excited to share her love and appreciation of art.
STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

Emily Howe is a senior at Penn State double majoring in Psychology and Art. She hopes to some day attend graduate school to become an art therapist. She currently works as the manager for the ceramic studio at the HUB on campus through the Center of Arts and Crafts. Her favorite art form is drawing, but she has experience in painting and ceramics. When Emily is not studying or making art, she enjoys hiking, spending time with friends or family, and horseback riding.

Rafael Izakov has extensive experiences in black and white, color, slide, and digital photography. He has worked as a freelance reporter, and his works have been published in magazines and newspapers. Rafael has won many photo competitions and enjoys photographing people, landscapes, streets, theatre, sporting events, and travel scenes. He works as a volunteer assistant instructor for photography classes at PSU and is now focusing on digital photography, with emphasis on improving photographs using new software.

Michele Lake is a senior at Penn State majoring in fine arts with a focus in drawing and painting. She primarily paints nature-inspired pieces with acrylic, but also spends her free time filling her sketchbook with watercolor sketches. If she’s not painting, she’s probably riding her bike or hanging in the trees in her hammock.

Victoria Maglonzo is a senior at Penn State majoring in Early Childhood Education with hopes of making art and self expression a focus in her future elementary classrooms. She has worked with numerous art-types ranging from knitting to drawing and everything in between, but her ultimate passion lies in ceramic work. With experience and awards in both wheel throwing and handbuilding, she is very excited to continue creating all while sharing this love with her art students.

Sonya Neumann has been teaching ceramics for more than fourteen years and still can’t get enough! Teaching children and adults wheel thrown and handmade ceramics is one of her most fulfilling experiences. She minored in ceramics at George Washington University. She was born in Trinidad and has traveled to Turkey, Florence, Rhodes, England and Crete.

Erica Parsons is a graduate of Penn State with a Bachelor of Science degree in Art Education. She has recently begun substitute teaching within the local district and her main artistic interest is in drawing and painting. She plans to go to graduate school to pursue a Master of Fine Arts degree in the near future. In her free time, she enjoys camping, reading, and watching Steeler football with friends and family.

Ken Plattner has studied at the University of Maryland, in Munich, Germany and at Penn State. In 1978 he opened his own stained glass studio on East Main Street in Boalsburg, PA. His work is distributed throughout the world. Ken began teaching stained glass for CFAC in the late 1970s.

Casey (CC) Ray is a third year Art major with a minor in Creative Writing at Penn State. Her hobbies include taking long walks through the woods, drawing character studies, and researching for her first book. She fondly remembers the many summers she spent in camp, and is looking forward to building many more wonderful memories with this year’s kids!

Seth Young graduated from Edinboro University with a Bachelors in Applied Media Arts. He attended The Governor’s School for Arts in 2007 and studied four years of animation in college. He has always had a lifelong passion for comics and loves to study the different styles and techniques used in them. In his spare time, Seth is working on a comic with a collaborator in Philadelphia, as well as participating in upcoming conventions.
